

Primary Identification Card

U.S. Government I.D. – may be federal, state, or tribal–issued. Customers may provide the following:

- State–issued driver’s license
- Non–driver’s identification card
- U.S. Armed Forces card
- A uniformed service ID card
- U.S. permanent resident or other identification card issued by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services
- U.S. certificate of citizenship or naturalization
- An identification card issued by a federally or state–recognized tribal nation (tribal identification card)

Passport – This includes a U.S. passport, U.S. passport card, or foreign passport

Corporate Identification – For many services specified in Exhibit 10.3 customers may provide a corporate identification card of a corporation located and organized in good standing in the United States.

U.S. University Identification – For some retail products and services specified in Exhibit 10.3 customers may provide a public or private U.S. university identification card as an acceptable form of photo identification.

Secondary Identification Card

- Lease,
- Mortgage, or
- Deed of trust.
- Voter Registration Card
- Vehicle Registration Card
- Home Insurance Policy
- Vehicle Insurance Policy
- Utility bill
- Form I–94, Arrival, and Departure Record

Unacceptable Forms of Identification

The Postal Service does not accept the following as either sufficient proof of identity or validation of an address; they are unacceptable as primary and secondary forms of identification:

- Social Security cards
- Birth certificates
- Credit cards
- Other similar items

Primary Identification Card

Passport This includes a U.S. passport, U.S. passport card, or foreign passport.

Matricula Consular (Mexico) A Matricula Consular card is an identification card issued by the Government of Mexico through its consulate offices to Mexican nationals residing outside Mexico.

NEXUS (Canada) NEXUS is a joint Canada Border Services Agency and U.S. Customs and Border Protection operated trusted traveler and expedited border control program. Customers may provide a NEXUS card as a form of identification for money orders. To be accepted, the NEXUS card must contain an identification number.

Secondary Identification Card

- Lease
- Mortgage
- Deed of trust
- Voter Registration Card
- Vehicle Registration Card
- Home Insurance Policy
- Vehicle Insurance Policy
- Utility bill
- Form I-94, Arrival and Departure Record (must include a home address)